Elm Creek Watershed Due Survey For Plans

COSTUME TIME - Kay Looney, Jane Burns, Jane Callaway, Becky Wilkinson and Patricia Stroup make design and fabric selections for period costumes they will wear as Folk Fete hostesses in Cameron June 12 and 13. (See story page 3).

Teachers To Meet Here

John E. Hill, assistant director of Texas State Teachers Association, Austin, will be guest speaker for the quarterly meeting of Milam County Teachers Association, 7 p.m. Monday at Ben Milam Cafetorium.

Leon Brady, president of the Milam Teachers Association, announced that Hill would speak on the teacher retirement system.

Hill, a former teacher and school administrator, is in charge membership and member services for the state association.

Before accepting a position with Texas State Teachers Association he taught in the Wharton schools and as elementary school principal in Hempstead and Bay City. He received his Master's Degree from the University of Houston and has completed additional work at Baylor University.

He has held offices in county teachers associations, served as President of the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association, District XII and was a member of the State Executive Committee of TEPSA.

In addition to his work with TSTA membership and member services he works with the State Professional Rights and Responsibilities Committee of TSTA.

Trustees Hear Problems

Cameron school trustees spent two hours Thursday night discussing some of the problems the schools face now and others they will have to consider soon.

Discussions ranged from financial problems, the need to organize a new school calendar, to the problem of "pilfering" going on in some buildings.

School board members also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Frances Walzel and granted a leave of absence to Mrs. Judy Todd. Mrs. Janet Quiram of Rosebud was hired to replace Mrs. Todd as high school English teacher.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said he plans to get prices on planned construction and remodeling after notification from Austin of how much money the school will have to work with this year.

Plans call for remodeling of Yoe gym, addition of dressing facilities for junior high and high school, and new homemaking building.

This year's transportation costs are threatening to exceed budgeted funds, Dodson told trustees. Increased costs of repairs, maintenance, and salaries were cited as contributing factors.

Action by the 61st Legislature increasing required school days from 175 to 180 will mean a rearranging of school calendars, Dodson said.

Colleges and universities are starting, or planning to start next fall, a calendar setting midterm exams before the Christmas holidays. If the local school wants to complete the first semester by Christmas, starting date will have to be moved up to get in the required 90 days of instruction per semester.

This may mean starting school as early as August 13.

This led to a discussion of the relative merits of having school in August heat or June heat, depending on which way the calendar was set.

Supt. Dodson said he will have plans and suggestions for the next school calendar to present at the February board meeting. Answering a question about affects on the football schedule, Dodson said games would probably start about the same time, or maybe a week early.

Several board members reported that many taxpayers seem to misunderstand the increase in percentage of property valuations for school taxes.

"Some people think taxes are being doubled," one trustee said. Percentage of valuation was doubled - from 25 percent of fair market value to 50 percent. The tax rate will be lowered.

School taxes will increase, but "certainly not be doubled," trustees emphasized.

Supt. Dodson pointed out that the cost of salaries and supplies have risen at a "very rapid rate" in the past five years, and teachers' salaries will be increased for the 1970-71 school year.

"The amount of money we must put into the Minimum Foundation Program in order to receive State funds is increasing at a rapid rate," Dodson explained. What it all boils down to is the schools will need more money to operate on.

Board members heard reports of "pilfering" in junior high and high school. Clothing, including a complete varsity basketball uniform, has been reported stolen from gyms and locker rooms. No solution to the problem was reached.

Control Of Overflows Is Sought

Landowners in Elm Creek watershed are seeing their long-time dream of flood control move a little closer to reality as preliminary steps are taken toward the goal.

The United States Soil Conservation Service has told the Elm Creek Watershed Authority that it will prepare plans for a flood control program.

Frank Kratochvil, secretary of the Authority's subdistrict, Water Control District No. 1, said permits are being obtained from landowners in the watershed for survey crews to gather data, such as depth and width of the flood plain, for the plan.

Actual survey work is expected to start soon.

Planning is expected to take about a year, Kratochvil said, and sale of the $300,000 in bonds voted in June, 1968, will follow. The bond issue passed that year after being defeated in 1960 and 1961 elections.

The $300,000 is the Authority's share of the $8.2 million needed for flood control project.

Kratochvil noted that the Big Elm has five to eight overflows in a normal year of rainfall, but North and South Elm, branches of the main creek, "go out every time it rains."

The whole watershed covers about 200,000 acres in Milam, Falls, McLennan and Bell counties. As many as 20,000 of these acres have been flooded by major overflows.

The project, expected to take about eight years to complete, calls for 62 flood control structures on Elm Creek tributaries. Improvement is also planned for the channel on the main stream.

The survey will point out sites for the control dams, engineered to keep runoff water from swelling tributaries, which in turn overflow and cover thousands of farmland acres each year.

TAB Agent Transfered To Cameron

F. M. Jones, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission agent, has been transferred to Cameron to serve the Milam and Burleson County area.

He is the first TAB agent (formerly Liquor Control Board) to be officed at the Milam County Courthouse.

Jones, who formerly covered Milam County from a Temple office, said he would be making regular monthly checks of all retail beer and liquor business and checking complaints. He said there were about 400 licensed businesses in the two-county area.

He will work with both city and county law officials as well as highway patrolmen stationed in the area. Main source of complaints in the Milam-Burleson district, Jones said, were selling liquor or beer to minors and unlicensed sales. He said tab agents also checked sanitary conditions in bars and taverons.

Jones has been a liquor control agent for 10 years, stationed at Abileen, Beaumont and Temple. He is a native of Hamilton County, is married and has three children. They recently moved into a home at 807 N. Lamar

5 Agencies Get Insurance Split

Milam County Commissioners formally accepted a bid on liability insurance, with divided commissions, and ordered an advertisement for bids to purchase a front-end loader for Pct. 1.

The insurance bid by Camp and Baskin for an estimated $13,000 liability policy was accepted by Commissioners for divided commissions for 5 Milam agents. Camp and Baskin were awarded a 70 percent commission, and 7 1/2 percent each to Minnie Stedman Insurance Agency, Cameron, W. E. Gaither Co., Lewis-Bredt Co., and Alex McLeod Agency, all Rockdale.

Insurance, made necessary by the Tort Law passed in the state legislature last spring, covers bodily injury liability up to $100,000 per person or $300,000 per occurrence on all registered vehicles (50 units), premises coverage on all owned or leased property, all operations of the county (including all unlicensed vehicles), and all county roads.

Also, workmens compensation with $100,000 employees liability on all employees and volunteer compensation on all elected officials.

The original Camp-Baskin bid of $16,000 was lowered when county road mileage was set at 829 miles. Original estimate for county - maintained roads was 1,300 miles.

Commissioners voted to advertise for bids for a new front-end loader for use in precinct 1, with trade in of the present loader.

Sealed bids will be opened at the February 9 regular meeting.

BUCKHOLTS TO ELECT 3

Trustee election for the Buckholts Rural High School District has been set for April 4, 1970. School trustees who's terms will expire in April are W. E. Beckhusen, Elbert Svetlik and Henry Vaculin.

ACCIDENTAL ENCOUNTER. . .

During the past year, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals reviewed a 20th District Court jury's conviction of Johnnie Lee Bell, sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Bell appealed the decision to the higher court, which by Justice Onion's opinion upheld the District Court.

Here is part of the transcript; written by Judge Onion apparently knowledgeable about Milam County:

"The following is reflected by the record: The scene, Clark's Place, a tavern in Rockdale, Milam County; the time, early Sunday afternoon, June 18, 1967. The cast includes among others the complaining witness, Charlie Gipson, and his sister, Minnie, the appellant (Johnnie Lee Bell) and his friend, Floyd Rivers, and Leroy Clark, a tavern owner.

"At approximately 2 p.m. on the date in question, appellant and several friends arrived at Clark's Place with two gallon jugs of cold beer, partially consumed, which had been purchased at Andy's (near Rockdale), famous for his keg beer and thick sandwiches. Around the same time Charlie Gipson arrived, but sat at a different table from appellant and his friends. Thirty minutes later events began to travel a colision course. Gipson arose to depart upon the arrival of his sister, Minnie. At this time appellant, who had fallen asleep at his table, got up to go home with his friend, Floyd Rivers. At the tavern door the appellant bumped into Gipson, the appellant was shoved by Gipson, words were exchanged and a fight ensued. The State's version of what transpired thereafter varies from that of the appellant's witnesses.

"The State's evidence reflects the appellant first swung at Gipson and then pulled out a pocket knife and cut Gipson severely across the face, who then picked up a metal folding chair and struck the appellant in an effort to defend himself. But appellant continued to cut Gipson. Upon the appellant's being knocked down several times by the chair, Gipson bade something less than a fond farewell and beat a hasty retreat from the beer joint. Upon Gipson's arrival at the local hospital, approximately 100 stitches were required to close the deep wounds in his face and chest.

"Meanwhile, back at the suds parlor an officer arrived and placed the appellant under arrest. Rivers, who had obtained possession of appellant's knife, took the same to the home of appellant's step-father.

"Appellant's witnesses Jackson and Mitchell related that the bumping at the doorway was accidental, that appellant apologized, and only after he had been knocked to his knees three times by the metal chair did appellant pull his knife to defend himself."

The Texas Criminal Appeals Court upheld not less than one year nor more than two years sentence.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR VEHICLE INSPECTIONS

With the State's April 15 motor vehicle inspection deadline approximately 90 days away, large numbers of Texas motorists have yet to take their vehicles in for the mandatory annual safety inspection.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today urged all motorists whose vehicles have not been inspected to visit an inspection station as soon as possible.

"Those getting the inspection now will avoid long lines which are certain to develop at many stations as the April 15 deadline draws near," he said.

The DPS Director noted that Texas adopted an annual inspection program on September 1, 1969. All vehicles inspected since that date have had the sticker placed on the left side of the windshield with a large number tab vehicles inspected in September have the number nine displayed and will require reinspection before September 30, 1970.

Marriage Still 'In' Here

Marriage is still 'in' according to Milam County statistics for 1969. County clerk files show 197 marriage licenses issued in 1969 "about normal," according to Mrs. Joe Kovar, a clerk in the county records office.

Divorce rate was also termed normal with 48 divorces granted in Milam District Court. Another 14 divorces filed were dismissed.

CRIMINAL COURT

District court also disposed of 38 criminal cases in 1969.

Charges of burglary led the criminal docket. Of 10 cases heard, two were dismissed, two sentenced to 2 years each, one to 3 years, and 5 received probated sentences. One defendent failed to appear.

Three assault with intent to murder cases were heard, two were dismissed and one sentenced to 2 years.

Of seven felony theft charges, four were dismissed, one found not guilty, one received a 3 year sentence and one a probated sentence.

Two robbery charges drew a 7 year sentence and a 5 to 50 year sentence (robbery with a deadly weapon.)

DWI CONVICTIONS

Charges of driving while intoxicated - subsequent offense, drew two probated sentences, a 2 year sentence and a 'weekend' sentence. The weekend sentence was assessed by Judge W. C. Wallace against the father of a large family. He was confined to county jail from 6 p.m. Saturday to 6 p.m. Sunday every weekend for one year.

A sixth DWI case also involved a murder without malice charge resulting from an auto accident. This drew a 5 year probated sentence.

A one year to fifteen year sentence was assessed on a charge of murder with malice and a 2 year sentence for escape from jail.

Two men charged with unlawful possession of narcotics each received 2 year sentences.

Three charges of fraud or forgery were dismissed. One charge of receiving and concealling stolen property, one worthless check charge and one case of failure to stop and render assistance were also dismissed.

District clerk records showed the court had disposed of 93 civil cases. Forty - one cases were dismissed when parties involved settled out of court.

District Clerk Grady Allen said the civil cases ranged from auto and work accident settlements to land disputes.

COUNTY COURT

Milam County heard 37 DWI cases (first offense) and assessed fines of $50 to $100 and 3 to 5 days in jail.

Also heard and charged in County Court were six agravated assault cases, two charged with assaulting an officer; eight charges of carrying a pistol; three charges of theft; two charges of operating a motor vehicle while license suspended and one charge of contributing to the delinquence of a minor.

Two charged with threatening the life of another person were fined $100 and $200 in County Court.

Principal Foils Robbery Attempt

Principal Arnett Zelisko, working late in his office at Ada Henderson School, surprised a would-be thief at 11:15 Thursday night.

According to police reports, Zelisko heard a noise in the teachers lounge and when he went to investigate, the intruder ran out of the school.

Zelisko was able to describe the man, and police arrested Dennis Earhart of Cameron, 20, on Friday morning. He was identfied by Zelisko and charged with attempted robbery in Milam County Court.

SAN GABRIEL-

By Mrs. Ralph Heisch

Sunday was a beautiful Sabbath day after a week of freezing temperatures and some rain but mostly cold.

So after the holiday visiting and the weather, combined with the sick of the community news is scarce at San Gabriel.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Mieske of Austin were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mose Shavers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Clark and John of Houston spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Bill Clark.

Mrs. Andrew Garner had as dinner guests Sunday Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth England of Round Rock. Rev. England is seving as interim pastor at the San Gabriel Baptist Church.

Mrs. Maude Yeager is a patient at the Taylor hospital and was doing very well until Sunday when her condition became worse.

Saturday Mrs. Francis McClanahan of Houston visited her mother in the hospital and then spent the night with her father, Mr. Joe Yeager.

Mrs. Media Clark has returned to her home after her holiday visit in Houston and her son, Harry W. Clark of Waco spent Friday night and Saturday with her.

Weldon Gilchrest had surgery Thursday at a Marlin hospital, but was able to return to his home Saturday.

Visiting Mrs. Howard Fulcher this week were her grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Isabel of Victoria Mrs. Fulcher returned home with them. She will go on to Corpus for an extended visit with her daughter and husband there.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McDaniel Sunday were their son Mr. and Mrs. Monty McDaniel and girls of Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Locklin of Thorndale visited for a while Sunday with the Mose Shavers.

Dan Beason of Thorndale visited in the Walter McDaniel home Saturday night.

TIPPIT'S TIPS

It is a good idea to leave your car headlights turned on when driving during daylight hours.

Many people think it's a good idea--not so much to help you see, but to help other drivers to see you.

Your decision to drive with your headlights on or off in daylight hours may depend on where you are driving.

On a heavily traveled stretch of two-way highway, where you face oncoming traffic--as well as drivers entering the highway from sideroads and driveways-- it makes sense to turn those headlights on. Especially in gray, overcast weather.

On the other hand, if you are on a divided freeway, where the greatest danger is that of rear-end collisons, it may be advisable to leave your lights turned off especially in bright sunny weather--so that your brake lights will show up better to the drivers behind you in case you have to make a sudden stop.

But when you do use your headlights in the daytime, don't forget to turn them off at the end of your trip.

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

"LET ME PRAY"

... 'Oh, Lord!' — in simple words that are full of meaning. Let me say The Lord's Prayer every day with a fearless and grateful heart.

With a sense of Divine concern for daddy, and mummy, and sister, and all our friends — let me ask that thine ear be open and that you will hear me, Father. Thou hast commanded me to come as a little child; to be humble as a little child; to have faith as a little child. Here I am, so please bless me and make me one of thine own. Bless our pastor, and our church and help us to grow in the grace and knowledge of God.

With firm faith that sees beyond the failures of men — Father, you have let me pray."

FOLK FETE BELLES - Meeting over coffee at the James Kahler home are Cindy Thweatt, Debbie Evans, Marion Thomas, Cheryl Heitman and Cindy Nigliazzo. Plans were made for their roles as hostesses for the Folk Fete pilgrimage and garden party in Cameron, June 12 and 13.

Period Costume, Historic Homes Add Color To Folk Fete Plans

Gleaming silver, polished antiques, folk dancing, historic homes and gracious young hostesses will all have a part in the Folk Fete planned for Cameron June 12 and 13. Organizers for the first annual Fete are Mrs. Perry Holder and Miss Mildred Thornton.

Hostesses for the Folk Fete pilgrimage met recently at the home of Mrs. James Kahler, hostess committe chairman, to plan costumes for their hostess role. The young women will wear plantation era gowns as they conduct tours through five Cameron homes.

They will also be in period costume as hostesses for the garden party slated June 13 at the Hilliard Thomas home.

Folk Fete Belles will be Bonnie Ball, Marion Thomas, Kathryn Kahler, Ann Arthur, Jane Callaway, Patricia Stroup, Becky Wilkinson, Debbie Evans, Cindy Thweatt, Jane Burns, Kay Lonney, Mary Bowman, Cindy Nigliazzo and Cheryl Heitman.

Local homes that will be open to the public for the pilgrimage attraction of the Folk Fete include the residences of Miss Clara Thomas, Miss Lois Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Dodson, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Newton and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Henderson, Sr.

Mrs. Charles Edward Hensley is chairman of arrangements for the garden party on the residence grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Thomas. Committee members are Mrs. Frank Perrin, Mrs. Henry Litzman, Miss Christine Laws, Mrs. Kenneth Willy and Mrs. Ladis Marek, Jr.

An art exhibit at Cameron Public Library is being planned by Mrs. Lester Williams.

Folk dance groups will feature representative dances by Czech, Italian, Western German, Latin-American and modern groups. Bands representing the blend of heritages in the Milam area will include E. E. (Buffalo) Angell's Band (western), the Vrazel Polka Band (Czech) and James Muecks 'Spine Cultures' (modern).

Folk dance committe is Mrs. Frank Mikulec, Mrs. Tony Peronne, Mark Towery, Mrs. Carrie Milligan, Charles Kunz and Miss Mary Barcenes.

Other committees and individuals starting work on the Fete are: Mrs. Robert Clark, ticket sales; Henry J. Litzman, Jr., parade; L. W. Stroup, food concessions, R. W. Wells, stage arrangements, Eugene Smitherman, pre-festival arangements, Frank M. Luecke, publicity Monroe Fuchs and Forrest Sapp, post festival arrangements.

NEW RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Fays and son Jackie of Roswell, New Mexico are new residents of Cameron. Mr. Fay will be employed at Dodson Auto Supply.

The average grocery store of 1940 carried about a thousand food items. Today's supermarket offers 8,000 items, and more than half weren't available even a decade ago.

NEW KITCHENS KEEP PACE AS FASHION CENTER

Today's kitchens are no longer "for work only." They are fashion centers.

Why? Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, says the switch from simple meal preparation to gourmet cooking is one reason.

New appliances such as frostless refrigerators, self-cleaning ovens and dishwashers also change kitchen design. Increased outdoor living is another influence.

Stereos, televisons, radios and intercom centers are common in modern kitchens. Kitchens have become larger because families spend more time there entertaining, the Texas A&M University specialist adds.

Like clothing fashion, kitchen fashion features the total look. Towels, cooking utensils, large appliances, floor coverings, cabinets and counters are color and design coordinated.

Mediterranean styled furniture is most popular for the kitchen. Miss Lay says style is a foremost consideration for purchases where in the past major selling factors were price, serviceability, cleanability and durability.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

Jan. 18 - Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Shelton

Jan. 20 - Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Schiller Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Michalka, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hanel, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Durnie

Jan. 24 - Phil and Jane Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Montez

If your birthday or anniversary is not listed on the Cameron birthday calendar, The Herald invites you to send in your listings. We will put them on the calendar for printing in the birthday and anniversary columns.

DOORS OF YOE

By Jane Callaway

Here we are two weeks into 1970 and I haven't wished you a "Happy New Year!" I hope you have a great year. We all need to gather oursleves up and set our direction during this new decade. These ten years will see this group of YOE HIGH STUDENTS through all (or most of it) of our education and out to "make our work." What do you want to accomplish? You know you can do it if you really try. It may take some "doing" --but it is up to us. I'm trying to listen to what I'm saying.

The Cold Spell brought a little change in School attire. The girls could wear slacks--you know, it was a lot warmer. What did you say? Oh! The dresses would be warmer if they weren't so short.

Congratulations to the Yoemen! Our basketball team is really something! They are winning--and winning! The Swing Band plays between games and at half time of the varsity games. John Ben Sutter does the announcing--and, by the way, J. B., Denise Botts is a sophomore. Carolyn, who says singing a song won't help you find your place while you are playing?

Congratulations to Gail Jeter who was crowned Basketball Queen. Her escort was Mike Zajicek. Cindy Nigliazzo and Helen Townsend were the other nominees. Cindy was escorted by Jerry Richardson and Helen by Johnny Steamer. The game was a Sadie Hawkins affair. The girls had their chance!

If you happen to notice Miss Kosel blinking her eyes a lot--she has new contacts. I sympathize with you. I remember!

Miss Rosson, why couldn't you have had your parents' car the other night? I'll bet those girls are still trying to figure all that out.

Last Saturday, Cameron was host for the Region Band Contest. There were 214 students here, and from what I hear, it was "mass confusion."

Debbie B. what did you do with the judge's sheet?

The band made $60.00 selling refreshments. Leroy, why didn't you eat a sandwich? I missed all this--taking a SAT test in Temple. Terrible!

Semester exams this week!

Bush Enters Race For U. S. Senate

Rep. George Bush of Houston said Tuesday that he has decided to enter the race for the U. S. Senate and will file in the Republican primary. He made his announcement at a news conference in Austin, saying he had decided after giving it much study, and predicted:

"It will be a long, tough, uphill battle. However, I am convinced I can win."

Bush, now serving in his second term as Congressman from Houston's 7th District, is well known in Milam County due to his earlier race for the Senate in 1964.

Frozen Meats For The 70s?

COLLEGE STATION

Two recent experimental programs in merchandizing frozen meats have pointed up both potentials and problems, reports Frank Orts, Texas A&M University Extension meats specialist.

A Philadelphia firm for the past two years has been merchandizing 17 different frozen meat cuts from chopped beef to roasts. These products are packaged in a special wax-plastic hot melt process which seals frozen meat in an attractive high gloss carton.

The package, explains Orts, does not show the raw product, but rather how a discriminatory hostess might serve it to her family and guests.

This firm has reported substantial growth in the sale of frozen meat from coast to coast in addition to a strong international market.

They have found that shoppers associated the idea of frozen meat with convenience, says the specialist.

A Wisconsin firm has introduced a frozen meat bundle containing 14 cuts. Some problems have occurred such as lack of freezer space in the market and of visibility of individual cuts in the bundle.

Some housewives, notes Orts, have the idea that frozen meats in the meat counter are of subpar quality; however, this was quickly changed after trial usage. They said the meat was very fresh even after it had been in their home freezer several days.

One of the major problems which must be overcome with frozen meat, explains Orts, is the acceptance of the product by Mrs. Homemaker. In the long run, he adds, the marketing of frozen meats has many efficiencies such as eliminating perishability and can lead to many economies for everyone.

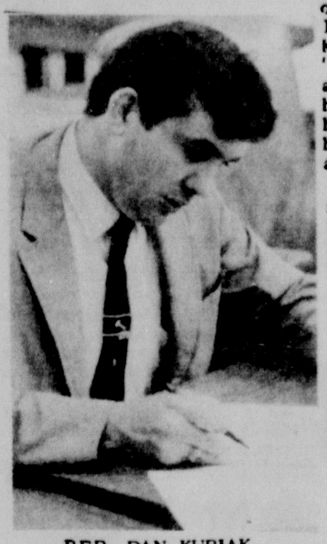
Rep. Dan Kubiak Seeks Second Term In House

State Representative Dan Kubiak of Rockdale announced that he is a candidate for re-election to the office of state representative for District 27 -- Falls, Milam and Roberston Counties -- in the Democratic Primary to held May 2, 1970. Kubiak, a former teacher and author of the book, Ten Tall Texans, is mid-way through his first term having been elected in 1968 for the two-year term, winning the election over a three-term incumbent.



REP. DAN KUBIAK

During the session of the 61st Legislature, Representative Kubiak served on five House Committees - the powerful House Education Committee, the important Agriculture Committee, the School Districts Committee, the Parks and Wildlife Committee and the Penitentiaries Committee.

Kubiak, who makes the job of state representative a fulltime position, was described by Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur as "an outstanding young man who is both conscientious and capable, a man with a great future in politics." The 61st Legislature passed two resolutions commending Rep. Kubiak and his work. In HSR 200 the Legislature declared, "Rep. Kubiak has exhibited his desire to serve his constituents fulltime through his serious concern with the issues before this body and his long work days so that he has become known as truly a working representative whose primary concern is for the people of Falls, Milam and Robertson Counties and the State of Texas."

During the first term in the 61st Legislature as a freshman representative, Rep. Kubiak did not miss a single vote of over 8,000 cast in the Regular, First Called and Second Called Sessions of the Legislature. "He was not absent a single day nor did he miss a single committee meeting which is a rarity for any member, let alone a freshman," stated Rep. Vernon Beckham of Denison.

Rep. Kubiak was born in 1938, the son of a blacksmith, on a Falls County farm in Reagan, approximately nine miles from Marlin, the county seat, where he live for 16 years. He is the oldest of six children of John T. Kubiak and Connie Snider Kubiak of 439 Belton Street, Rockdale. On Dec. 23, 1967 in Somerville, Rep. Kubiak was married to the former Miss Zana Bassler, now a teacher in the Rockdale Public Schools.

Kubiak, who will be 32 in March, came to the Texas House of Representatives having attained the status of an outstanding educator and author, having been named the "teacher of the year," having won the Texas State Teachers Association district award as "teacher of the year," and having been given a 1967 award for excellence in portraying Texas and its past in his book, Ten Tall Texans.

Kubiak attended the public schools of Reagan and Marlin, Texas, graduating from Marlin High School in 1957. He graduated from Blinn College with a AA degree in 1959, a BBA degree with a major in government and eudcation from the University of Texas in 1962, a Masters degree from Midwestern University in 1966 and has done postgraduate work at Georgetown University and the University of Texas.

Rep. Kubiak, a moderate, sponsored seven bills, all of which became law, a raity for a freshman legislator, Kubiak is a strong believer in letting local people have local control and was one of the leaders who fought down the tax on medicine, prescriptions, food, farm machinery and was instrumental in working a compromise between the House and the Senate.

In making the committee appointments, the Speaker of the House paid tribute to Kubiak for his outstanding leadership abilities saying, "He has the background to do a very effective job as a member of the committees and comes to the House of Representatives with outstanding qualifications." Rep. Kubiak has become widely known in Texas through his participation in governmental work. A leader in the field of education and agriculture, he has worked closely with industrial foundations and other groups in the district in securing industry in Falls, Milam and Robertson Counties.

Kubiak has received many distinguished awards, among these the 4-H Club Gold Star Award in appreciation of his work with this organization and other farm groups. As a representative, Kubiak is a tireless worker and is dedicated to his duties with a talent for getting along with all members of the Texas House of Representatives. A responsible representative of his people, Kubiak does not hesitate to state his views or to take positive stands on crucial issues as demonstrated this past year in the Texas Legislature. In describing Kubiak, Rep. Tom Bass states, "The greatest thing I admire about Rep. Kubiak is that he is honest and sincere in all that he does and is not afraid of hard work. This is the greatest asset a person can have."

Rep. Kubiak stated when announcing that he will make an active campaign for re-election and welcomes any suggestions from the people of his district. "It has been a great experience serving the people of Falls, Milam and Robertson Counties and I am grateful for the opportunity of serving and working for each of you. The 62nd Legislature will face many critical problems including redistricting, taxation, air pollution, water pollution and inflation, to mention a few. I consider service to my fellow man the most gratifying experience I may encounter as a public servant and I look forward to serving each of you, not only now, but for years to come."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Pacifism That Works

Where else can one find such a hotbed of hostility as in a court of law? Each case is born of conflict, nurtured on resentment, and brought to maturity in the grim certainty that one side is right and the other side is wrong.

The individual litigants, seeking their "day in court," make up a veritable parade of angry men. Here we find the wrathful motorist, the indignant neighbor, the outraged customer, the irate stockholder. Their grievances are the kind that, in a tavern or on a street corner, would very likely explode into violence.

Yet, violence is seldom seen in the courtroom. Even after the decision, when one of the parties has tasted defeat, the loser usually "takes" it with astonishingly good grace. As Federal Judge Henry J. Friendly wrote recently:

"I always feel pride, and some wonder, when, after a heated and bitter argument, a word passes from the bench and quiet descends."

What defuses the explosion? Surely the secret lies in the basic method of the courtroom—the method of settling disputes by allowing each side to be heard, with a neutral third party deciding which one shall win.

To be sure, the method has faults. Legal technicalities slow it. Human frailties flaw it. Not every judge is impartial, not every juror wise.

But the method does succeed in settling a vast number of potentially violent disputes—peacefully.

"On the whole," observed Judge Friendly, "it works."

Pacifism does not deny that conflicts will inevitably arise in the ordinary course of human affairs. Pacifism seeks only to resolve these conflicts without violence. The courtroom is demonstrating daily that it can be done.

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office in Cameron, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 1, 1879. Published every Thursday.

FOR SCHOOLS, ROSEBUD AND LOTT. . . .

We watch efforts of Rosebud to deal with the problems of old school buildings and think back upon Cameron's awakening six years ago.

It comes to this: Rosebud is calling a January 31 election to decide whether Rosebud School District patrons will support a $1.3 million program for a new high school.

February 7, Lott and Rosebud school patrons will vote on consolidating the two districts, prior to locating the proposed new school at Travis, about midway between the two Falls communities.

These are major steps for communities of 1,000 to less than 2,000 people. These are steps being taken throughout Texas by communities finding their public schools lacking.

Cameron has been through a lot of this, perhaps ahead of most Central Texas towns.

We understand and sympathize with the problems of major school improvements and the sacrifice necessary to meet modern needs. But it sometimes comes to this: change or perish.

We recently suggested that Rogers improve it sewer system for the first time in 25 years. We suggest that Rosebud school patrons, some of whom live in Milam County in the old Burlington common school district, consider the importance as well as the magnitude of this proposal in Rosebud.

This area must have better schools. The $1.3 million program is a start. Cameron was fortunate in that it was not compelled to enter into such an undertaking. But it was a possibility. And Cameron would have had to make such a move, and yet it might in future years.

We suggest that better schools are one of the few securities we can offer our children, regardless where we live in Texas. They take that with them, whether back home to Rosebud or to California or Asia or the moon. Most of them will be better prepared in better schools which require more than buildings, according to one source, moving on their foundations and dropping ceiling plaster in classrooms.

If we are to move as a region of Texas, we must have the foresight to move as communities. This effort toward school improvement and unification is a step in that direction.

Gause News

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

With all the bad weather there hasn't been much going on around our town this past week. School got started again last Monday after the holidays and everyone got back into their regular routine of work.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simmons visited with their son, Mike, who was a patient in the hospital in Rockdale last week.

Mrs. Hilton Butler and Mrs. J. T. Todd have both been patients in Newton Hospital in Cameron, both having checkups.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harlan, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gause and Margaret were in Crystal City December 23, where they attended the funeral of Mr. S S. (Bud) Moore, who passed away in the Veterans Hospital in Kerrville on December 21. Survivors include a son, Mike Moore and a daughter, Mrs. Patsy Hooks both of Crystal City.

Funeral services were held in San Antonio last week for a former Gause resident, Mr. Thomas Gray Ferguson, who passed away suddenly at his home in Los Angeles, California.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harlan and other relatives were Mrs. Patsy Hooks of Crystal City and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hooks of Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bowling of Houston visited the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harlan and relatives.

Mrs. Eddy Doty of Houston and Mrs. Tom Evans of Dallas have returned to their home after spending several weeks here.

Mrs. Wayne Lee was honored with a pink and blue shower Friday night at the Baptist Church Annex. Hostess were Mrs. Alfred Coats, Mrs. Herb Phillips and Mrs. Bennie Wadlington.

After the many useful and pretty gifts were opned and displayed refreshments of cake squares, hot chocolate, coffee, mints and nuts were served by Misses Sherri Coats and Tanya Wadlington.

Know Forage Quality

Many Texas dairymen have seen small differences in both feeding and mangement take their toll in lowered milk production.

A.M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist, Texas A&M University, suggests that if the dairyman does not know the nutrient value of his forages he can't do much about making the necessary adjustments in his concentrate feeding program.

Thus, the dairyman stands to lose dollars as a result of decreased milk yields or a s a result of feeding excessive nutrients - especially protein.

For many years dairymen were confronted with the problem of getting a reliable estimate of the feeding worth of their hay and silage, the specialist pointed out. This problem, he continued, has been eliminated by forage testing.

Chemical analysis, which is available to all dairymen from several sources, will allow him to feed his dairy cows what they need for top production and will change his dairy management practices from just milking cows to a scientific enterprise.

However, Meekma pointed out, forage testing results are only as reliable as the sample submitted for analysis.

He urges all dairymen to take a truly representative sample of the forage to be fed for testing purposes.

Also, since the moisture content of silage is extremely important, care must be taken to assure that the samples submitted for analysis contain the same amount of moisture when received at the laboratory as when taken from the silo.

If the silage sample is allowed to dry on its way to the lab, the analysis reported by the lab and consequently the feeding recommendations offered by the Extension dairy specialists will be inaccurate.

A core sampler for sampling hay is available for the dairyman's use at many local county Extension offices.

The county agent can also provide shipping containers, report forms and information sheets necessary for mailing forage samples, Meekma said.

Epicurus, the Greek philosopher, estimated about 300 B.C. that the sun "is just as great as it appears"--or, in his view, about two feet in diameter. Actually, the sun measures 864,000 miles, compared with earth's 8,000, National Geographic says.

FASHION ME A PERSON IS TOPIC FOR INSTITUTE

Mrs. John Moore of Waco, President of the Austin Diocesan Council of Catholic Women has extended the deadline for enrollment to "Fashion Me a Person" until January 25. The Institute will be held February 3, 4 and 5 at the Stagecoach Inn in Salado for all clergy and women of the Diocese, whether or not they are affiliated with DCCW.

The Institute is scheduled to open on February 3 with a session beginning at 9 a.m., followed by a Eucharist Celebration at 12:15 p.m. The first day will also have an afternoon session at 2:15 p.m. and an evening session at 7:30 p.m. Three sessions are scheduled for the second day. There will be a 9 a.m. session the third day, preceding the closing of the Institute with a Eucharist Celebration at 12:15 p.m. and a luncheon at 1 p.m.

Three staff members of the National Council of Catholic Women will prside at the sessions. The team, professionally trained to conduct the Institute, will work in a carefully-arranged series of small-group work sessions. Typical back home organization and inter-personal situations will be apringboards to developing attitudes, knowledge, and skills.

DEADLINE FOR W-2 FORMS

Employers are reminded by the Internal Revenue Service that employees should receive two copies of a Withholding Statement, Form W-2, on or before Monday, Feb. 2, 1970.
